Defense Department to Call 480,000 18-Year-Old Youths

PROPOSAL IS OUTLINED TO COMMITTEE

Washington, Jan. 10—(P)—The Defense Department called today for the immediate drafting of 450,000 18-year-olds to build up the armed forces.

As secretary of Defense Marshall and Mrs. Anna M. Rosenberg, assistant secretary, outlined the proposal to a senate Armed Services subcommittee in urging immediate enactment of a universal military service and training program making all physically fit 18-year-olds liable for 27 months service.

Mrs. Rosenberg said that unless the armed services can call on the 18-year-olds they will have to ask congress to let them draft young married men.

She said in that case, fathers, as well as husbands without children, might have to be called from the present 19-26 age brackets. They are now exempt.

The proposal from the defense officials lined up in this manner:

1. Enact long term legislation aimed at requiring training and service of all physically and mentally fit young men beginning at age 18.
2. Until that program can be handled, take the 18 year olds who are now nearest their 19th birthday.

Marshall, former army chief of staff and former secretary of state, was the first witness at what Chairman Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) of the subcommittee said would be an overall hearing on manpower problems.

Under the present draft law, boys of 18 are required to register but they cannot be drafted until they reach age 19. Their service after induction is limited to 21 months.

The present draft law expires next July 9. The senate subcommittee hearings are aimed at developing such questions as how long the law should be extended and with what changes.

Marshall said he felt 18 year olds should be called for actual service and combat.

"The program proposes that young men reaching the age of 18 fulfill their obligation for the nation's defense by entering the armed forces for 27 months of service and training," Marshall said. "Immediately thereafter they would enroll for a specified term in a reserve component."

In his State of the Union message on Monday, President Truman called for extension and revision of the draft law but did not say what changes he wanted.

WINS 40 AWARDS AT STATE FARM SHOW

Harrisburg, Jan. 10—(P)—A Greene county horse breeder literally had to use a truck to cart his blue ribbon winnings away from the State Farm Show.

Charles B. Orndorff, of Waynesburg, won upwards of 40 awards in judging events yesterday with his pureblooded Percheron horses and sheep entries.

Arrangements Completed For Pupils To Aid Legion "Tide of Toys" Collection

Sponsored by a committee from Chief Complanter Post American Legion and in cooperation with directors and officials, Friday will be "Tide of Toys" day in the public schools of the borough.

As announced Tuesday the directors approved a request from the Legion to have pupils in all buildings and rooms take to school at least one good toy Friday afternoon, as a gift to a less fortunate child in a war-torn land. Each name should have the name of the donor and a brief message if desired, so that the recipient may have an opportunity to communicate with the person giving the toy.

Senate Democrats Rally To Truman Program of Helping Europe Man Defense Lines

Washington, Jan. 10—(P)—Secretary of State Acheson said today he would be glad to talk with Senator Taft, or any other member of what he called the minority party, on foreign policy matters.

Answering questions at a news conference, Acheson also told reporters he thought failure of the United Nations to solve the problem of the Korean crisis would naturally diminish its prestige and power. But he characterized as an overstatement a suggestion that a U. N. failure to take strong action now would wreck the organization.

Taft, Republican policy chairman chief in the senate, has been carrying on a continuous criticism of the administration's foreign policy.

At the same time, a number of senate Democrats rallied to the administration's support in its plan to help western Europe man its defenses against possible Soviet aggression.

Most of the questioning at Acheson's brief news conference concerned Taft and his views.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the senate foreign relations committee, Senator McFarland of Arizona, the Democratic leader, and Senators Douglas (D-Ill), McMahon (D-Conn) and Fulbright (D-Ark) all went to work on speeches for the torrid foreign policy debate.

To strengthen the president's position—under vigorous attack by some Republicans—Douglas proposed that the senate act affirmatively on the question of furnishing troops for Europe and on defining similar policies in Asia.

"We should affirm the preliminary agreements made at the Brussels conference for the establishment of a European defense force," Douglas said. "I think the president acted under his constitutional powers in that instance and I believe the senate will agree."

Douglas said he wants to reverse the "negative" approach taken by Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican floor leader, in a resolution which would ban the sending of additional ground troops to Europe without prior approval from congress.

Mr. Truman has said that he doesn't need any further authority from congress to commit more ground forces to Europe. He didn't touch directly on the question in his "State of the Union" message Monday.

However, Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told the National Press Club yesterday the administration concept of operations under the North Atlantic treaty includes "A complete international army." He added that "anybody who says we shouldn't send a soldier to Europe" (Turn to Page Eight)

Meat Industry Offers a Program For Stabilizing Prices Without Control

Washington, Jan. 10—(P)—The nation's meat industry offered the government a program today for providing stabilized meat prices without resort to price control and rationing.

It said meat production could be stepped up 12 per cent over the next two years and from 25 to 30 per cent within the next three to five years.

With such an increase, prices could be held at the present levels without controls, industry spokesmen said, providing government monetary and fiscal policies limited increases in consumer incomes to 10 per cent.

The program was laid before a conference of top government economic stabilization and agriculture department officials by a newly organized livestock and meat industry conference group.

New York, Jan. 10—(P)—Higher wholesale prices on a long list of foods this week carried the Dun & Bradstreet wholesale price index up nine cents from last week to $7.02—highest since mid-August of 1948.

The index is nearly 22 per cent above the $5.76 of a year ago. Just before the Korean war broke out, it was $5.96. The record high was $7.36 on July 13, 1948. This week's figure is only 4.6 per cent below that peak.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of a pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Higher this week were flour, wheat, corn, rye, barley, hams, lard, butter, coffee, cottonseed oil, cocoa, raisins, steers, hogs and lambs.

Lower were oats and eggs.

TAX HIKE TO MEET BUDGET TRUMAN PLAN

Washington, Jan. 10—(P)—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder said today President Truman will call on congress this week to raise taxes enough to balance the budget.

Snyder refused to give any figure whatsoever on how much taxes that would involve—or how much the budget will be for the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

There were indications elsewhere that a tax hike or perhaps $20,000,000,000 or more—a jump of nearly 40 per cent in present taxes—would be necessary.

The treasury chief told reporters the president will lay down a full "pay-as-you-go" policy in his economic report Friday and his budget message next Monday. This, Snyder said, will be followed by specific tax-boosting recommendations in a special message before February 1.

The president's recommendations will deal with fiscal 1952, beginning July 1, which will be the first year in which the speeded up rearmament program will show real impact on the budget.

"The president is going to say that the taxes to protect revenues would be levied to balance the budget," Snyder added.

Earlier there had been talk on Capitol Hill that taxpayers might get a year's breather before taking on any new tax burden although the chairman of the house tax committee said he expects new levies to be enacted by midsummer.

Meanwhile, Senator Anderson (D-NM) said in a speech "high and responsible officials" have discussed the possibility that 10 to 15 billion dollars a year would (Turn to Page Eight)

School Teacher Is Shot By Yegg In Pittsburgh Holdup

Pittsburgh, Jan. 10—(P)—Shot pointblank by a bandit who tried to hold her up, a 23-year-old school teacher is in serious condition today in St. Francis hospital.

The victim is Janet Mackrell, daughter of the late Dr. John S. Mackrell, formerly head of school district physicians, and niece of the late Joseph N. Mackrell, register of wills.

She teaches in O'Hara township school.

A neighbor found her last night lying about 10 feet from her auto, parked at the rear of her Liberty avenue home in Bloomfield.

The neighbor quoted her as saying:

"A colored man shot me."

Later she told police she was getting out of the car when the man approached and demanded money.

Miss Mackrell said she tried to climb out of the car, hoping to elude the bandit, but that he thrust her back into the machine and fired.

Police said the bullet struck the teacher in the mouth and came out through the back of her neck.

There were three buttons torn from her coat at the scene indicating she had struggled with the man.

Stockholders of local banks met yesterday, in conformance with state regulations, and elected directors for 1951, after which the directors held their annual organization meetings to elect bank officers.

There were very few changes in the official banks of the various banks, except that the First National directors elected a new president, Wallace H. Cowden.

Mr. Cowden is a grandson of William Muir, who was president of First National from 1912 to 1940 and chairman of the board from 1940 to 1950 when he retired.

Realistic Novelist Of American Life Is Dead In Rome

Rome, Jan. 10—(P)—Sinclair Lewis, bitingly realistic novelist of modern American life who brought American literature its first Nobel Prize, died here today. He would have been 66 next Feb. 7.

The noted author of 21 books, most of them best sellers, died at the Villa Electra clinic, where he had been a patient with bronchial pneumonia since Dec. 31. Hospital attendants said he suffered also from an inflammation of the heart.

Created by George Babbitt, the typical American businessman of the 1930's, Lewis made literary history also with such searching studies of American life as "Main Street," "Arrowsmith," "Elmer Gantry," "Dodsworth," "It Can't Happen Here" and "Kingsblood Royal."

He was awarded the Nobel Prize in 1930, chiefly for Babbitt. Four (Turn to Page Eight)

The meeting will be held in the council chambers of the Municipal building, starting at 7 o'clock.

Allied Intelligence Reports 280,000 Communist Troops Massed For a New Offensive

Tokyo, Jan. 10—(P)—A small tank-led American and French force fought through a crust of Red Koreans today into the key road-rail center of Wonju. The Allies found the town empty.

Allied intelligence said, however, the Reds have 200 tanks and 500 Chinese planes poised farther north for a big push into the heart of South Korea. It said the Communists have massed a force of possibly 280,000 troops for a new offensive.

The Allies had abandoned Wonju to the Reds only Monday after two days of fighting for the gateway town to South Korea's interior.

Fighting swirled in new fallen snow throughout the Wonju area. Censorship obscured the sharp details but permitted disclosure in a field dispatch that the U. S. Second Division supported by French units was attacking strong enemy forces in the area.

A brief A. P. field dispatch from the Second Division front indicated the Korean Reds had counterattacked in force. Timed at 10:43 p. m. Wednesday (8:43 a. m., EST), it said that an attempt to outflank U. N. forces was beaten back. The high point of the enemy attack came at 3 p. m. (1 a. m., EST), the dispatch said. The Department of Defense lists from Korea, released today, include the name of Pfc. Franklin B. Miller, Marine Corps, son of Arthur L. Miller, Box 240, Warren, who has been wounded in action; also Pfc. William E. Fries, son of Carl Fries, 640 East 35th street, Erie, Marine Corps member, wounded.

Allied artillery barrage was stepped up greatly but bad weather held off air support for the second day.

At nightfall a small American task force still occupied Wonju, 45 miles south of the border in the center of the Korean peninsula.

A tank-supported company of the Second Division swept into the town from the southeast after beating off fierce Red Korean counterattacks.

A second column driving up from the south brushed off Red counterattacks mounted by six battalions and occupied the south (Turn to Page Eight)

Barbershoppers Make Good Contribution To Hot Stove League Program For 1951

A good start toward financing the big Hot Stove Baseball League program for 1951 was made today through the generosity of the Warren Barbershop Singing Society.

The BaBarbershoppers staged a Parade of Quartets some time ago in cooperation with the Hot Stove League, and today turned over to the Hot Stovers a check for $273.59, representing a major share of the show's net proceeds.

This is the second year in a row that the Barbershoppers have made a big contribution to the Hot Stove League, and the support of this organization and other groups and individuals is greatly appreciated by the entire Hot Stove organization.

Meanwhile the Hot Stovers are completing arrangements for their first big activity of 1951.

It is slated for Tuesday night, January 23, when Gene Woodling, of the World Champion New York Yankees will visit Warren.

Plans call for Woodling to make a personal appearance at rally of Hot Stove members in Beauty gym. The rally will start at 7 o'clock, and will include, in addition to a talk by Woodling, one or two baseball movies. One of the films will be "The Making of a Yankee," which Gene will bring with him. Woodling's tour, of which Warren is one of his many scheduled stops, is being arranged by the Sports Parade Program.

The rally will be open to all Hot Stove members, including the Banquets, Midgets, Intermediates and Juniors. Younger boys may be accompanied by their dads, or other adults.

Following the rally in the school, Woodling will then go to the K. of C. rooms where he will be the guest of the Warren Council, Knights of Columbus at a buffet luncheon. Attendance at the luncheon will be limited to K. of C. members and their guests.

WOMAN IS WITNESS

Pittsburgh, Jan. 10—(P)—Mrs. Alice Rennekamp, Democratic party secretary for McKees Rocks borough, is the latest witness to testify before the special racket probing grand jury. The woman also is secretary to Burgess David Hershman of McKees Rocks. He is expected to be the next witness to tell the jury of conditions in his bailiwick.

The observers also reported open grumbling against Marshall Tito's Communist government, but no war jitters.

Yugoslav authorities were cooperative, they said, granting complete freedom of movement.

The Yugoslav government is distributing American food shipments efficiently and equitably, and giving full publicity to the American contributors, they reported.

Observers who made the tour included Earle Flohr of Warren, Pa.; George Lannan, New York City and formerly of South Boston, Mass.; Frank Terranova of White Plains, N. Y.; James Lowenstein of Scarsdale, N. Y.; Donald Spigler of Philadelphia, and George Trett of Washington.

Fast-Developing International Events Subject Of Talk Delivered To Lions

Rear Admiral James Keppeler Davis, retired, assemblyman from Tionesta, Forest county, delivered an interesting and thought-provoking address to members of the Lions club at the noonday luncheon Tuesday at the YWCA activities building.

Discussing the fast-developing international events Admiral Davis said the twelve-nation army of General Eisenhower's may still be our best bet for survival of ourselves and our institutions, the Navy man said in giving his own views of the situation. But he added a note of warning concerning wishful thinking and leadership.

"Remember that it was our military and State Department who went along with such an absurdity of the United States occupying a zone in Berlin with no right of way over land or water to reach it," Davis said.

"We must make sure that no such blunder is being set up in these critical days which will gamble away the lights of the world."

In a talk that was very well received the speaker reviewed the Far Eastern situation and history. He mentioned the "get our boys home" campaign instituted by Communists on the Stars & Stripes staff, the mutinies at Frankfurt and Manila, the gossip columns smearing the brass while Stalin was building up his brass.

Our Chinese policy made no sense, Mr. Davis said, and was the result of "planted seeds of treason and delusion."

Under that policy Korea was inevitable, Indo-China and the Malay Peninsula will be next.

"There's been more wishful thinking about the atomic bomb and strategic bombing," the speaker continued. "That is another Maginot line."

He asked whether it is too late to save Europe and at the same time preserve our own liberal institutions. If Churchill's advice about invading the "soft underbelly" of Europe had been followed, "it would have saved Western Europe from its present exposed position."

Our problem is not winning World War III alone, but "to preserve the institutions and culture of freedom-loving peoples," Admiral Davis said.

Then he asked: "Is it wishful thinking again at work when we commit ourselves so completely in Europe in the face of:

"1—Europe's manifest spiritual decadence
"2—Zero military power.
"3—Unwillingness to see the immediacy of danger of attack.
"4—Vast numbers and wide reach of fifth column."

The speaker was introduced by Dr. James Giunta, president of the club.

January 15 Is Date For Taxpayers Who Did Not Have Levy Deducted During 1950

Washington, (AP)—January 15 is a date for a number of taxpayers to remember.

Everybody with income of $600 or more in 1950 must file a tax return by March 15, and pay in full any tax owed.

That's all most people will have to do because during 1950 they had the full tax for the year withheld from their pay.

But others—because of the size of their income or the kind of work they did—didn't have the full tax or any tax withheld from them in 1950.

They too must file a final return, just like anyone else, and pay in full any tax owed. But there's something else for them.

Last January 15 they were supposed to estimate what their full tax would be in 1950.

Then by last March 15 they were supposed to file an estimate of what that full tax would be and start paying the difference between the tax withheld from them, if any, and the full tax owed.

They were supposed to pay this estimated tax in four installments, starting March 15, 1950. The second installment was due June 15, 1950, the third, Sept. 15, 1950. And the fourth is due Jan. 15, 1951.

So these people by Jan. 15 are supposed to pay the final installment on their 1950 estimated tax.

They may find now they owe more tax than they thought last March 15 they would owe. This will be true for many people since the income was raised last Oct. 1.

So people who have been paying an estimated tax and find now they owe more than they estimated can do one of two things:

1. Make their regular quarterly payment on Jan. 15 and then by March 15 make their final return and pay in full any tax still owed.

2. Or, make their final return Jan. 15—instead of waiting till March 15—and pay by Jan. 15 any tax owed. This will save them the trouble of paying an estimated tax on Jan. 15 and then making a final return by March 15 and paying whatever tax is still owed.

Those choices are open to anyone who's been making the estimated tax payments—provided—They don't find now they underestimated their tax for the year by more than 20 per cent.

If you're in this group, you must file a revised estimate by Jan. 15.

Under the law farmers don't have to pay any tax on their income during the year in which it was earned. But they have to get busy on it in the January following that year.

This is what farmers must do:

1. They can file, by Jan. 15, an estimate on their 1950 income, and pay their estimated tax by that date. Then by March 15 they must file a final return and pay in full any tax owed.

2. Or, they don't have to file an estimate on Jan. 15 at all—if they file their final return by Jan. 31 and by that date pay in full any tax owed.

Interesting Telephone Lecture On Modern Dentistry Heard By County Club

The January meeting of the Warren County Dental Society was held at the Carver Hotel with twelve members present. The program consisted of a dinner at 6:30 o'clock followed by a business meeting with the third in a series of telephone extension programs emanating from Chicago being received at 8:30 p. m. Following is an abstract of the University of Illinois news release discussing the advance of dental science during the past 25 years, as discussed in the forum:

Years ago when grandfather was subjected to the filling of a tooth in a dental chair, his plight was not one to be envied.

The tooth was considered an inanimate object at the beginning of the century. Filling materials were used only for their physical properties and from the standpoint of appearance. Little consideration, if any, was given to the fact that these materials produced definite effects upon the supporting tooth tissues, often leading to permanent injury.

The resulting discomfort, pain, and even death of the pulp—the so-called nerve of the tooth—could be attributed directly to improper manipulation and application of filling materials. The dislodgment of fillings, fracture of teeth, and other mishaps were due to the disregard of fundamental mechanical and physical laws.

This is not true today, however, as a result of remarkable strides by dental science during the past 25 years. The dentist not only has better materials at his command now, but his knowledge of their physical properties and proper use also has increased appreciably. Thus, many problems and failures of the past have been resolved through a better understanding of the physical phenomena which accompany the use of filling materials.

This progress by the dental profession was told Monday night by a panel of six scientists participating in the University of Illinois' postgraduate extension program titled "Current Advances in Dentistry." The presentation was transmitted by telephone to 258 dental societies and dental clubs throughout the United States and Canada.

An audience of more than 9,000 dentists heard the scientists give a clinical and physical appraisal of dental materials which are available today. Participating in the two-hour program were Drs. Stanley D. Tylman and Isaac Schour, University of Illinois; Dr. Arthur B. Gabel, University of Pennsylvania; Dr. George M. Hollenback, University of Southern California; Dr. George C. Paffenbarger, U. S. Bureau of Standards; and Dr. Floyd A. Peyton, University of Michigan.

The scientists pointed out that restorative dentistry in its broader sense today implies an understanding of the biological structures and functions of dental tissues. It also requires a knowledge of the physical properties of the materials used in constructing fillings and bridges. Finally, a comprehension of the forces exerted upon these restorations and their reactions upon the dental tissues also is essential.

Son-in-Law's Advice Pays

Frank W. Woche, 531 Apache Street, Houston, Texas, can't say enough for HADACOL. A retired steamfitter and plumber, he says that he's really enjoying life these days—for up until a few months ago he was run-down and just couldn't eat. Then his son-in-law suggested he start taking HADACOL, and after the first small bottle he picked up energy, and increased his appetite. He's now taken four large bottles, and says that he just wouldn't be without HADACOL. Mr. Woche found that HADACOL helped his system to overcome deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron.

Here is Mr. Woche's own statement: "I was so run-down and my son-in-law suggested I take HADACOL. I had lost lots of weight and was tired all the time. After the first small bottle I started feeling better right away. I have now taken four more large bottles and wouldn't be without HADACOL. HADACOL has done so much for me. It's wonderful and all of my friends saw how bad I was looking and now tell me how much better I look. I can't say enough for HADACOL."

GOOD WATER

To control disease a community must constantly supervise its water supply—for the health of everyone depends on palatable water that is free from waterborne disease germs.

In the early part of the century, thousands died of typhoid epidemics traced to contamination of water. Today, such typhoid epidemics are virtually unknown in this country, because the scientific treatment of water eliminates the typhoid germ.

"Boil Drinking Water" are the first words of advice given in case of floods and other disasters that cause break-downs in the normal water supply.

In Pennsylvania 8,375,200 people—four-fifths of the population—draw their water supply from streams rather than from wells. More than 1,000 municipal water works distribute water to Pennsylvania's homes and factories.

This is a gigantic job. There are 100,000 miles of named brooks, streams and rivers in the state—and each mile is important to a healthy water supply—for wherever pollution starts in a stream, eventually it may flow to areas which are used as sources of drinking water. Municipalities filter and chlorinate the water to render it safe before it is piped into homes—but with all these man-made aids the taste, odor and quality of water still depend on source of supply. The greater the pollution—the more expensive it is to treat the water to make it fit for human consumption—and the greater the hazard that some contamination may slip through.

To safeguard your family's health, it is highly important that wastes be treated before they are discharged to the public waterways. You cannot be a passive onlooker in this job—knowing what is at stake.

YOU can insist that your community provide sewage treatment works. YOU can refrain from dumping refuse on the banks of streams. YOU can voice approval of the laws the State Sanitary Water Board is enforcing which require manufacturing and processing plants to treat wastes before discharging them into streams.

Remember your effort adds up to community effort.

LEGION "TIDE OF TOYS"

As announced in the writeup of the January meeting of the board of school directors, approval was given to a request from the American Legion for cooperation in its Tide of Toys campaign, and the collection will be made in the buildings on Friday of this week.

This is a commendable project and one that will receive whole-hearted cooperation not only from students, but citizens generally. Briefly, the plan is to have pupils in every school room contribute at least one good toy, each to have attached a note containing the name of the donor and a brief message if desired. The purpose of this is to establish correspondence with needy children in Europe, who will eventually receive the gifts through "CARE".

Those in charge remind that plans have been made to make collections from homes. Any person having toys to donate is reminded to call the American Legion Home, telephone 576-J.

TIME TO THINK IT THROUGH

America's military men, whose views ought to be bulking fairly large in any debate about this country's future security, are being pretty well drowned out by louder voices from Capitol Hill.

Much is being made outside the Pentagon of the value of our air force in protecting us against a hostile Communist world. Presumably the advocates of this "armed isolation" want us to have the very finest jet fighters.

Item from the military men: Jet engines require cobalt. We get 98 per cent of our supply from the Belgian Congo in Africa. How safe would this resource be if Europe, including Belgium, fell to the Russians?

According to the Wall Street Journal used car dealers, who have been having a small depression amidst the nation-wide boom, are betting that better days are ahead for them.

The clinging gal is not as popular these days, says a writer. Has he looked at the backs of motor-cycles lately?

Tie Up That Dog!

Here And There

This And That: According to Johnny Nelson the Bradford Owls are "packing them in" for the basketball games being played by the High school in that city; last Friday night a standing-room-only crowd of 1,100 was on hand when the Owls whipped Erie Tech for their seventh straight. . . . Both Willie Mosconi and Irving Crane, engaged in a world's pocket billiards championship series, have appeared in exhibitions in clubs in Warren. . . . It is reported that plans are being made to put on an extra run on the star mail route to Jamestown, to leave Warren after the close of business here and reach that city in time to make connections with Erie train No. 1, going west; since evening train No. 971 did not make connections at Corry with the Erie filer the proposed arrangement would give Warren better service for westbound mail than is available at present. . . . Midnight January 31 is the end of the current inspection period for autos as well as the close of the effective time for old operators' licenses; cars not already checked should be inspected soon, officials say, and no delay should be permitted in applying for driver's licenses. . . . Franklin E. Ulf of Kane, writes that it took four days to drive from Tidewater to St. Petersburg, Fla.; he says there was plenty of snow in Pennsylvania but it vanished soon after leaving this state. . . . A group of members of the Jaycees has had a busy time the past few evenings removing the large Christmas displays that attracted so many favorable comments during the Yuletide season. . . . Dr. M. A. Swaney who practiced in Marienville for five years starting with the winter of 1929, died in a DuBois hospital last week from a heart attack; he was practicing medicine at Falls Creek when he was taken ill.

★ WASHINGTON COLUMN ★

Extent of Defense Mobilization Hinges on Manpower Program

BY FETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Department of Defense is having a tough time trying to justify its position on the speed of mobilization. It is accused of having a "sleazy" attitude—taking a midway nap while the commies are overrunning civilization.

From all over have come charges that the country isn't mobilizing fast enough. That defense contracts aren't being let fast enough. That cutbacks and controls aren't being applied in tough enough fashion.

In Washington, the complaint has been that nobody can find out what the armed services want. The size of military requirements has become the multi-billion dollar mystery. And the delay has not been satisfactorily explained.

There is a certain amount of justification for this criticism. But the Department of Defense does have some valid arguments defending its present gradual mobilization policy.

When Defense Secretary George Marshall was testifying in closed session before Senate Appropriations Committee, all the senators present took time out for a 10-minute speech telling the General that we should have all-out mobilization in a hurry.

GENERAL MARSHALL stood about as much of this as he could, and then turned sharply to one of the senators and asked in effect, "What do you mean by full mobilization? Do you mean armed forces of 15,000,000 men? How long would you and the country be willing to support that big a force?"

The senator ducked, saying, "I'm here to ask you questions." Assistant Secretary of Defense W. J. McNeil, comptroller of the armed forces, had a similar experience in a private session with a congressman whom he prefers not to identify.

This congressman started making the speech about the need for full mobilization. So he happens that this congressman has a 17-year-old son.

"I tell you what I wish you'd do," Secretary McNeil said to the congressman. "I wish you'd go to the House tomorrow and introduce a bill—clearing it with Chairman Carl Vinson first, to make sure that it gets passed. In this bill, I wish you'd provide for universal military service of seven years for every boy of 18."

The congressman said he thought that was a bit extreme. McNeil then went on to explain why that would be necessary, if the United States was to maintain armed forces of 10,000,000 men, to match Russia.

THE explanation begins with the depression. There wasn't very much production in the United States from 1932 to 1939. This applies to babies as well as to food and factory goods.

The result is that today there are only a little over 1,000,000 physically fit boys reaching age 18 this year, and for the next five years or more. So if the United States is to build up and maintain an army of 10,000,000 men, it will have to draft 1,000,000 men a year and keep them in service for as long as the emergency lasts, or for at least seven years, permitting them to resign at age 25.

Well, the mathematics of the thing is that if 1,000,000 18-year-old draftees a year are to be kept in service for only two years, there can be at the most not more than a 4,000,000 man defense force. And this would mean that 2,000,000 older men would have to stay in service as professionals.

In other words, manpower is the first consideration in any calculation for a mobilization program. How big a defense force is the United States going to build up? How long will it be kept in service? After those determinations are made, then the calculations can be made on how much equipment they will need.

It would be nice to have one tank, one airplane or one jeep complete with bazooka and trailer for every man in service. But are they necessary? The answer is of course not. So why waste the money ordering all this equipment?

Gleanings: A memorandum received in regard to a forthcoming meeting of local Farrah Grotto reveals the fact that Ed Trehan, formerly with the Warren Land Company, is now associated with Derr-Wolfe Agency, Inc., 300 Perryville Road, West View, Pittsburgh. . . . A change has been made in early plans discussed for the dinner to be held February 22d under the auspices of the American Legion honoring the department commander, president of auxiliary and other dignitaries, and the event will take place at the YWCA instead of the armory, as was first considered. . . . Charles "Paddy" Jackson, one of Irvine's king pins, is convalescing at the Warren General Hospital, where he has been a patient for the past few days. . . . Lyle A. Russell, of Russell, county auditor the past four years, has a somewhat unique record in that he assisted in "breaking in" five new auditors either appointed or elected to the board since he has been a member. . . . The Legion has the "green sign" for the Tide of Toys collection in the schools Friday, which assures the success of the drive in this community. Watch other columns for full details.

WHY THOUSANDS OF DOCTORS prescribe pleasant tasting

PERTUSSIN FOR BAD COUGHS
(CAUSED BY COLDS)

For years — thousands of Doctors prescribed PERTUSSIN to promptly relieve bad coughs caused by colds. This is the same effective pertussis you can get today at any drugstore. PERTUSSIN is scientifically prepared to act at once. It gently stimulates tiny glands in throat and windpipe to pour out their natural secretions. Thick phlegm is loosened and more easily raised. Your throat is soothed and coughing relieved. Pleasant tasting.

Pertussin is safe and mighty effective for both old and young—even small children. Inexpensive.

Don't Smother Your Mate's
Personality Out in Company

"WHY do married couples so often act middle-aged when they're together, yet so much younger and gayer when they're apart?" asks a bride who says she hopes she and her husband never get like that.

When that is true of a couple it is usually because they have quit treating each other like individuals. They're a "couple" instead of two persons.

Mamie and Jim are like that. Mamie is pretty good company when she is away from Jim and Jim is full of fun when you see him without Mamie. But together—they're pretty dull.

If Mamie starts to tell a story in Jim's presence, Jim jumps in to correct her facts or to say impatiently, "You've got it all wrong."

MAMIE WANTS TO KNOW ALL

If Jim starts to tell some bit of news that Mamie hasn't heard, she kills it with the hurt accusation: "Why, Jim, you never told ME that." And Jim is made to look and feel like a small boy who has been holding out on Mama.

Mamie counts Jim's drinks at a party, censors his stories, reminds him that he has to get up early the next day, and even minds his manners for him.

When they're together neither Jim nor Mamie acts like an individual. So they're dull company. And the reason Mamie can't really be Mamie and Jim can't really be Jim unless they're apart is that they've fallen into the middle-aged habit of treating each other with so little courtesy, tact and real friendliness that they completely wet-blanket each other's personalities.

For GOOD-ness Sake

By Betty Rice

Indicative of the accelerated appreciation of the Red Cross and the importance of its great work in the national emergency is an UNSOLICITED contribution of $300 which has been received by the local chapter as a start in its 1951 Fund Campaign which will officially begin in March. It would seem that other folks who seek to accomplish something for GOOD-ness Sake might follow suit and make a similar gesture. Those whose responsibility it is to assure the annual success of fund raising will be more than grateful to receive any contribution at any time.

There seems to be little doubt but what Red Cross will again be called upon to carry a tremendous burden in the future of America and friends of America. Therefore, the time to prepare is now and every person must do more than ever before to help. It always has been and always will be YOUR RED CROSS.

At the time of writing the line at 2826 (Red Cross) is ringing with prospective blood donors. Those who volunteered for today's visit of the bloodmobile deserve the thanks of the entire community for their efforts. Area quotas have again been increased with a greater percentage of Type 'O' blood destined for armed service use overseas. Why don't you step front and center and make an appointment now for the February bloodmobile collection?

BEATHA CIRCLE

Beatha Circle of Epworth Methodist church will meet at the Bert Woodruff home in Pleasant township, at 8 p. m. Thursday, with Mrs. Kenneth Cole and Mrs. James Kelly as hostesses. A large attendance is desired, since officers are to be elected.

Canasta

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service
"Whenever I play three-hand Canasta," writes a San Francisco reader, "the evening ends in an argument. For example, here's the incident that started the fireworks last night."

"I froze the pack to avoid giving it away to my wife, who was at my left. Two plays later my wife made a discard that gave the pack to my son (the third player in our family game)."

"Now I wouldn't have minded this, except that it was obvious that she was giving the pack away deliberately. In fact, she admitted it quite cheerfully when I taxed her with it."

"I said quite a few things about what was sporting to do and what wasn't. My wife took the other side of the argument, and my son just laughed at both of us."

"What is the expert view of this situation? Is it sporting to give the pack away on purpose?"

It certainly is. In fact, this involves the most important feature of three-hand Canasta. The game is completely cut throat. Like shmael, your hand is against every man, and every man's hand is against you.

No player is your partner, and therefore no player has the duty of cooperating with you. If you make a play that puts you out on a limb, you must expect one of the other players to come after you with a saw and smile as he saws that limb off.

Let's examine the case of a freeze. My friend froze the pack to keep it away from his wife. If she cooperated with his play, she would be acting against her own interest. She'd never get the pack herself, so it would eventually go to friend husband.

From her point of view, it made good sense to give the pack away deliberately — especially if this could be done before it got too big. Then nobody would benefit too much from the play that had been directed against her.

As a matter of fact, let's change the situation a bit, and we'll see that the same principle applies. Husband sees that wife is having trouble finding safe discards. He freezes the pack to make it easier for her to discard safely. Is it sporting for her to give the pack away deliberately when it has been frozen for her benefit?

Yes, even then. Each player must play his own hand and decide for himself what will serve his interests. No other player has the right to make you play for his benefit. If a player tries to help you, and you think his idea is a poor one, you have every right to ignore his unwelcome help.

If these principles are understood, three-hand Canasta becomes a fascinating game. You never blame another player because you don't expect anything of him. The game becomes a battle of wits, in which everybody lashes out in both directions at once.

Great fun, if you like a good fight.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

Receipt of donations were acknowledged from the Needlework Guild, Spinster Class, Beginners' Department and Kitchen Class of First Presbyterian church.

PARENT-TEACHER UNIT HAS MEETING

The January meeting of St. Joseph's Parent-Teacher Association was held in the clubrooms, with Mrs. Santo Fadale, president, conducting the routine business session.

Mrs. James Lytle gave a report on the annual Christmas party held for the school children and thanked all who had helped in making it a success.

The unit has a justifiable pride in its school library and had shown its usual progressive spirit in voting an allotted sum monthly for the purchase of additional books.

After the December attendance prize had been awarded to the fifth grade, refreshments were served by the following committee: Mrs. Benjamin Scalse, chairman; Mrs. Lee J. Borger, Mrs. Peter Gorfido, Mrs. Charles Hollingshead, Mrs. Edward Martin and Mrs. James Tridico.

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such conditions as stress and strain, over-exposure or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Flu Epidemic Is Reported Sweeping Western Europe

London, Jan. 10.—(P)—An influenza epidemic which already has taken nearly 200 lives is sweeping through western Europe.

In Britain alone it has killed 150 in the last two weeks and sent thousands of others to hospitals. Some factories in the industrial midlands reported one out of every ten of their workers ill.

In Greenland, the malady caused the death of 17 persons in Fredericksnaab, a hamlet of 500 population. Physicians along the north German coast said the epidemic is the worst in 15 years. They listed 23 deaths in that region and said that 780 other persons are being treated in hospitals. Many nurses also were reported stricken. Authorities in both East and West Berlin reported a "high number" of cases.

Swedish health authorities also said that the epidemic in that country is the worst of the last decade. It flared throughout Sweden, they said, after breaking out in northern Lapland during Christmas week.

In the northern province of Vasternorrland more than 8,000 cases were listed. In Harnosand, a city of 15,000, doctors reported 6,000 cases. Several hospitals opened special influenza wards.

Some schools are closed in the Burges area of Belgium because of the outbreak. Hundreds of cases have been reported from the province of Zeeland.

The World Health Organization (WHO) in Geneva said it had only isolated reports on the epidemic.

Rocket ships, unlike airplanes, need no atmosphere to sustain their flight. In fact, they can travel faster in a perfect vacuum.

It is estimated that every active automobile thief steals approximately six cars a month.

MARCH OF DIMES TAG DAYS ARE SET

Quadruplets Born To Michigan Couple

Pontiac, Mich., Jan. 10.—(P)—Quadruplets were born today to Mrs. Anne Rosebush, 34, wife of a 36-year-old stonemason.

St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital reported the two boys and two girls and their mother were "doing fine."

Sister M. Philippa, hospital administrator, said the infants, born by Caesarian section, were placed in an incubator immediately. They are Michigan's second living set of quadruplets. The only others are the Morlok girls of Lansing, now 20 years old.

A boy, weighing four pounds, three ounces, was born first. Then came a girl weighing three pounds, eight ounces; a boy weighing three pounds, nine ounces, and finally a girl weighing four pounds, eight ounces.

Mrs. Rosebush's family doctor, Harold F. Stahl of Oxford, had told her to expect quadruplets.

The Rosebush family, including the father, Kenneth, and four other daughters ranging in age from seven to 15 years, lives in nearby Oakwood, Mich.

Wage Freeze Is Opposed By Lewis

Washington, Jan. 10.—(P)—John L. Lewis told the Wage Stabilization Board today the nation's miners oppose any wage freeze. He said the economy could be stabilized through normal collective bargaining.

Lewis and National Association of Manufacturers (NAM) Officials were called by the government wage Stabilization Board today to give their views on wage controls and the handling of critical labor disputes.

The NAM and Lewis' United Mine Workers present opposite poles in their reaction to most labor-management problems, including the Taft-Hartley act.

Lewis was the leadoff man in three days of labor-management sessions with Cyrus S. Ching and his Wage Stabilization Board. The NAM, headed by its new president, William H. Ruffin, was scheduled to follow.

Lewis was accompanied to the closed hearing by a delegation of 10 UMW officials and aides.

Young Polio Victim Finally Moved To Baltimore Hospital

Baltimore, Jan. 10.—(P)—A 17-year-old polio victim was resting at Children's Hospital school today, thanks to an emergency caravan that brought him here from Pennsylvania, iron lung and all.

It was a ticklish job to move Tommy Fasnacht from Lancaster because he had to stay in his bulky iron lung all the time. Doctors say that without it he'd die in a matter of minutes.

So, elaborate preparations were necessary to bring the youth to Baltimore, after an original plan to move him to the Polyclinic Hospital at Harrisburg, was upset. The bed that been reserved for Tommy was given to another boy.

Besides Tommy's parents, several others accompanied him in the spacious moving van—Dr. Page M. Schildnecht of Lancaster, and four volunteers to operate the iron lung mechanism by hand in case the generators failed.

And there were power linesmen to tap into electric lines along the road in case that was needed. A police escort also added to the caravan on the 70-mile trip which took four-and-a-half hours.

The portable generating units sputtered a few times along the way, and linesmen scamped up power poles to tap the lines if needed.

ern sector of hills looking down on the scorched town. This second division unit was only two miles from Wonju.

There were no Reds in the city. A. P. Correspondent William Barnard reported from the front.

The American-French assault teams launched their assault to retake Wonju in a swirling snowstorm Tuesday. They fought through a hail of enemy mortar and small arms fire.

Wonju controls a web of roads leading into the heart of South Korea.

The attack by the Second Division veterans of the Nakdong and Changchon river battles was the biggest United Nations offensive effort in days.

"We are in contact with North Koreans now and we intend to give them hell," the Allied commander said as the attack started.

The French-American force obviously was fighting to throw off balance the Communist drive down central Korea's mountain roads. The Red thrust threatened the Taejon-Taegu escape corridor for Eighth Army forces withdrawing in the west toward the old Allied Pusan beachhead.

General MacArthur's Wednesday afternoon war summary said a "very large" Communist force strung along a 70-mile front from Osan to Wonju was "capable of mounting a powerful offensive supported in great depth."

Pittsburgh, Jan. 10.—(P)—Both of the New Year's day escapees from the Allegheny county workhouse are back in jail again.

New York City police nabbed the second one, Howard L. Daubert, 20, of South Huntingdon, Pa., yesterday. He will be returned to Pittsburgh.

Daubert was picked up on a tip from his companion in the escape, Walter Walchak, 21, of Liberty, Pa., who surrendered to police Sunday night.

The two men, both trustees, walked away from the workhouse farm, looted the Louis Artzberger home in Fox Chapel, getting two guns and $110, and escaped in Artzberger's automobile. The car was abandoned at Sharpsburg.

The men fled through Wheeling and Clarksburg, W. Va., to Washington, D. C., and thence to New York.

Sugar Ray Given Memorial Plaque

New York, Jan. 10—(P)—Welterweight Champion Sugar Ray Robinson boasted another prize possession today—the Edward J. Neil Memorial Plaque.

Robinson was honored last night at the annual dinner of the New York Boxing Writers Association, receiving the award as the man who did the most for advancement of the sport during 1950. Joe Louis, an old friend of Robinson's presented the plaque as some 300 guests looked on at the Waldorf Astoria.

The award, presented annually since 1938, is in memory of Neil, Associated Press boxing writer who was killed while serving as a correspondent in the Spanish Civil War.

The James J. Walker Memorial award for service to the sport over a period of years was presented to Wilbur Wood, sports editor of the now defunct New York Sun, by James A. Farley, former chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission. Heavyweight Champion Ezzard Charles received a championship belt and Ring magazine's medal as "Fighter of the Year" from Ring editor Nat Fleischer. Charles won the Neil award last year.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

HERE ARE BIGGEST SLAM BID DANGERS

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

"Here's a hand that has caused a lot of discussion here," writes a

San Francisco correspondent. "It was played in a team of four match, and there was weeping and wailing in both rooms when this hand came along.

"In one room, the hand was bid to six diamonds—as you see. West led the deuce of clubs, and East took two club tricks with unconcealed delight. East then congratulated his partner on his opening lead, and West modestly said that it was nothing at all, and that he did that sort of thing all the time.

"In the other room, North didn't let his partner play the hand at diamonds. Instead, he played the hand at six hearts. West doubled, and North redoubled.

"East, being no fool, recognized that the double showed ruffing power. He therefore led a diamond. West ruffed, returned a club, and the defenders had a field day—taking two clubs and two ruffs. They scored 1600 points for down three vulnerable redoubled.

"As you can see, the result in the second room made the players in the first room look pretty sick.

What do you think of this hand, and how should it have been played?"

I am not surprised that this hand of the two gravest dangers to a

One danger was demonstrated in
